THE ECONOMY 2014: Enigma? Conundrum? Mystery? What is the forecast for 2014 and how can public companies best prepare?

- Will the Fed continue to be accommodative with monetary policy? Will it tolerate inflation if it is tied to job growth?
- Which sectors will be strongest? Weakest?
- Will it be a good year to issue equity?
- What global matters might have an impact?

YOU DON'T NEED A CRYSTAL BALL because Craig Johnson, Senior Technical Strategist, Piper Jaffray, will be reading the tea leaves for you. Join us for a lively discussion of the forces that will shape the economy in 2014.

CRAIG W. JOHNSON, CFA, CMT is a principal and senior technical research strategist and directs Piper Jaffray's technical research group. Johnson joined Piper Jaffray in 1995 as an analyst in the firm's private client research department. He offers frequent technical commentary on the broader market and individual stocks. Johnson earned his B.S. degree with an emphasis in finance and marketing and his M.B.A. from Drake University. He holds the Chartered Financial Analyst and Chartered Market Technician designations and is an active member of the Twin Cities Society of Securities Analysts and co-chapter chair of the Minnesota Chapter Market Technician Association. He is also on the board of directors for the Market Technicians Association.
